Another Message in Cipher From Minister Conger States That the Situation in the Chinese Capital is Very Critical.

FRANCE ASSENTS TO WALDERSEE AS CHIEF

Envoys at Pekin Were Safe on Aug. 13—Chaffee Reports Progress—Only Seven Miles from Their Goal—Terrible Heat Prostrates Many.

Washington, Aug. 15.—[Special Telegram]—Consul Ragdale at Che Foo, cables that he has received a cipher from Conger, saying that the Chinese are trying to force the ministers to leave Pekin, and that the situation is critical.

Berlin, Aug. 14.—[Special Cablegram]—The French government has given its assent to the appointment of Waldersee as commander of the forces in China. He left for the east this morning with a large staff.

London, Aug. 15.—[Special Cablegram]—The foreign office announces that the ministers at Pekin were safe on August 13.

Washington, Aug. 15.—[Special Telegram]—Admiral Remy cables from Taku Aug. 12: "Just received, undated, message from Chaffee at Matow as follows: 'Yesterday's opposition was of no consequence, yet in the terrible heat, twenty men were prostrated. Please inform the secretary of war.'"

London, Aug. 15.—[Special Cablegram]—Admiral Bruce reports from Taku the receipt of a message from Gen. Gasele, the British commander with the allies, dated Ho Si Wu, August 10, saying that the troops were then only seven miles from Pekin and meeting with little opposition.

The Tar cavalry was charged by the enemy, but he had fled as the allies advanced.

The standards of Generals Mab and Sung were captured. The British troops are much exhausted by the heat, but their health and spirits are excellent.

Paris, Aug. 15.—[Special Cablegram]—The French minister Pinchon at Pekin under date of Aug. 9, says he has been notified that Li Hung Chang has been charged to negotiate peace; we are absolutely ignorant of what goes on outside of the legation which continues to be shut in by barricades. If negotiation hinder the march of the foreign troops which is our only safety we run the risk of falling into the hands of the Chinese. The French legation is still occupied by the Imperial troops who have not completely ceased firing. We are reduced to siege rations, have pro-

BRYAN JUNIOR IS UNDER AN ECLIPSE

Irrepressible Son of the Candidate is Keeping Chicago Amused—He Will Be Sent Home Today.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—William Jennings Bryan, Sr., sat down yesterday upon William Jennings Bryan, Jr. The latter individual, now suppressed, has been breaking into the newspapers daily since the Bryan family came to Chicago until the family grew weary, and William Jennings Bryan, Sr., accordingly took his son and heir in yesterday and clipped his wings sport off. Mr. Bryan, Sr., said last night:

"This notoriety that William has achieved since his coming to Chicago is distasteful to his mother and myself, and we wish that in the future the papers would discontinue celebrating the notable achievements of my offspring."

William Jennings Bryan, Jr., under the new order of things, wore a week and chaste expression and bore himself with a restraint and austere dignity of manner that was almost agonizing. Not in all the long day did he have an opportunity to fall out of the eighth-story window or ride the Lincoln Park elephant or run the elevator up through the roof. His mother kept him continually by her side, and not once was he permitted to roam more than a few feet away. He was sternly bidden by partook one day's rest and then, on Aug. 1, a vanguard was formed, consisting of one Siberian regiment, one regiment of Bothnia Cossacks, three battalions of Japanese infantry, one Japanese sapper company and an American mounted battery. In spite of the condition of the road, this column proceeded by forced marches about eleven and one-half versts toward Pekin, encountering at Nan-Tsai-Tung, about forty-nine miles from the capital, a Chinese detachment which fought for an hour and a half. Finally the Chinese threw down their arms and fled in a panic. When this news was sent back all the allies started forward in three columns, with Cossacks in front and on the flanks.

SMALL POX AMONG INDIANS

Disease Epidemic in Tribe of 1,200 on Turtle Mountain Reservation. Washington, D. C., August 15.—Indian Agent Gatchel wires as follows from the Devil's Lake reservation, North Dakota:

"Oberon, N. D., August 14.—Brenner wires twenty-four cases of small pox in hospital. Others are quarantined at home. Doctor wants trained nurses." The scene of the outbreak of small pox is about 100 miles from the agency, and the disease is among the Turtle Mountain Indians, who are on a separate reservation, but under the jurisdiction of the Devil's Lake agency. Commissioner of Indian Affairs Jones has wired the agency authorities to take all steps necessary, including the employment of a trained nurse. The department also has shipped vaccine virus to

AMERICAN LOSSES SHOW AN INCREASE

Filipinos of Samar Are Not Accepting Amnesty—Garrisons of Three Towns Constantly Harassed.

Manila, Aug. 16.—Reports from Visaya islands show that there has been increased activity among the insurgents there during the last six weeks. The American losses in the island of Panay last month were greater than in any month since January last.

General Mojica, in Leyte, and Gen. Lucban, in Samar, are harassing the garrisons, shooting into the towns during the night and ambushing small parties, firing and then retreating upon the larger bodies. The insurgents possess an ample supply of ammunition and are organized to a considerable degree. The Americans have garrisons in three towns on Samar island, two of which shelter a tenth of the original inhabitants, who suffered from the continual "sniping" of the Filipinos from the surrounding hills. The third is without any native inhabitants, the rebel outposts, a mile away, preventing their return to their homes. General Lucban punishes the islanders who have any relations with the Americans. Cebu is likewise disturbed.

Barring those who have taken the oath of allegiance in the United States, the insurgents are imprisoned in Manila. When amnesty was proclaimed it practically was without effect and the expectation that the proclamation would accomplish much in the unexpired time is daily diminishing.

The banks, under government pressure, have restored the exchange work of two Mexican silver dollars to one gold American dollar. General McArthur has ordered the acceptance of American money for all public dues at the above rate.

Committees were then named, and pending whose reports an informal discussion of imperialism followed in a free for all style.

FERRELL PLEADS HIS INNOCENCE

His Fiance Miss Costlow Pays a Last Visit to the Ohio Express Robber and Murderer.

Maryville, O., Aug. 15.—R. H. Ferrell who confessed to the murder of Express Messenger Lane was arraigned here today before Mayor Hamilton in the presence of hundreds of people. The mayor read the warrant charging Ferrell with the murder of Lane and asked him if he was "guilty or not guilty."

The prisoner replied "not guilty" and waived examination. He was held without bond to await the action of the grand jury and was at once returned to the jail.

Columbus, O., Aug. 15.—Rosslyn H. Ferrell, the confessed murderer of Express Messenger Lane in Friday night's Pennsylvania train robbery, was yesterday taken to Marysville for preliminary hearing.

At 2 o'clock yesterday morning the anguish of Miss Costlow, Ferrell's fiancee became unbearable and after a long struggle with her pride she begged, her father to be taken to Ferrell's cell. When they were about to say good bye, possibly forever, they kissed and the young woman was led away. Ferrell collapsed after the interview and for a time in a comatose state. Miss Costlow is prostrated and under the care of physicians.

DEUTSCHLAND VERY FAST

The other two liners which started in the race, the Oceanic and the City of New York, have not yet been heard from.

The Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse was the first to finish in the race across the Atlantic. The Lloyd liner entered port last night, having completed the run from Sandy Hook to Cherbourg in five days, nineteen hours, and forty-four minutes.

Mrs. H. M. Weaver and daughter, Mrs. John Brown of Winona, Minn., are spending the week at Evansville.

Atchison, Kas., Aug. 15.—Ex-Senator John J. Ingalls, who has been in New Mexico and Arizona since early last fall for his health, is sinking rapidly, and his son Sheffield was today summoned to Las Vegas, where he now is. Mrs. Ingalls has been with her husband over two months, during which time it has been known that his recovery was doubtful.

He has been suffering with a bronchial trouble for over a year, and this is the cause of his present condition. His son, Ellsworth Ingalls, who is at Sioux Falls, S. D., was notified and left at once for his father's bedside. Mr. Ingalls was attacked with grip in South Dakota, while on a lecturing tour in the fall of 1898, and has been failing in health ever since.

Until a very short time ago Mr. Ingalls was able to be around the hotel at Las Vegas, but members of the family have felt for three months that there was no hope for his recovery. He has had the benefit of every kind of treatment for his bronchial trouble, but has steadily grown worse, until the end is near. His eldest daughter, Mrs. E. G. Blair of Kansas City and the Misses Marion and Muriel Ingalls are now in Atchison.

John J. Ingalls was born in Middleton, Mass., Dec. 28, 1833, and he is therefore almost 67 years old. He came to Atchison in 1858, having been attracted by a gorgeous lithograph of the boom town of Sumner, long since extinct. He served in the United States senate from 1873 to 1891, and his career as a statesman, orator and trenchant writer is well known.

would content themselves with resolutions denouncing imperialism and McKinley, without endorsing Bryan.

Chairman Thomas M. Osborne of the nationalists made a strong plea for a third ticket before the conference. He did not want the liberty congress to endorse it as a body, but to lend individual support.

John Jay Chapman of New York said McKinley would be re-elected "because Bryan is tied up to things which the conscience of the country cannot support." The speaker said he admired much of Bryan's personality, and particularly approved of a great part of his Indianapolis speech of acceptance.

"When I read that speech," he said, "I was at first inclined to think that I would vote for Bryan, but I have now determined that I cannot do that, because in order to vote for him I should have to vote for electors picked out by Richard Croker."

ABOLISH SALOON SCREENS

Beloit Ordinance Which Makes the Liquor Men Angry. Beloit, Wis., Aug. 15.—The common council when it granted saloon licenses ordered all stalls and booths taken out. Last night the council also ordered all screens taken from in front of the saloons. Some of the saloon keepers are most frantic at this. They say the saloon business cannot be carried on under such restrictions.

LARGE CROWD AT SUNNY SIDE PARK

Bryan and Stevenson Talk With a Pro-Boer Tinge to the Irish Societies of Chicago.

Chicago, August 15.—[Special Telegram]—Bryan and Stevenson, despite the threatening weather, this afternoon addressed a large audience at Sunny Side park, where the Irish societies had an outing. The speeches were non-partisan, but of a pro-Boer tinge.

Willis Abbott, sent to Milwaukee to explain to the International Typographical union Bryan's position in connection with the publication of his books by Conkey, has returned. He says that the printers won't attack Bryan since it was explained that when the democratic candidate learned that Conkey had changed to non-union Bryan had nothing more to do with his publications.

STRIKE EPIDEMIC ALL OVER EUROPE

Laboring People in England, France and Spain Are Clamoring For More Wages and Less Time.

London, Aug. 15.—Europe is at present suffering with strike fever. In London a vote of employees of the Great Eastern railway resulted in 3,260 to 126 in favor of a strike. The officials of the road are still considering the employees' grievances.

At Brussels several hundred dock laborers on a strike fought the police near the King's palace when they undertook to interfere with the new men. One policeman and three strikers were wounded. In Spain eight factories in Rojias, ten in Moulén, eighteen in Ritoll, and four in Vich are closed on account of strikes, and at Castlebon all the masons are out.

In Holland 10,000 diamond workers employed in Amsterdam, Rotterdam and Hilversum have struck. In France the dock laborers are on a strike at Havre, Rouen, Dieppe, and Marseilles, in Paris the cab drivers are still out, and large number of glass workers at Donal are striking.

London waiters, tired of being forced to live on tips, have inaugurated a movement to better their own condition and to relieve the overworked public. The Amalgamated Waiters' society has issued an ultimatum declaring that unless the evil is remedied they will oppose issuing licenses to the worst offenders before the County Council.

The ultimatum protests against the degrading and demoralizing system of tips upon which the waiters have to depend. It is a system of cadging which destroys our manhood, and is an unfair tax upon the public, and places the poor man at a disadvantage in public places."

Cleanest in America.

The Lackawanna Railroad is the cleanest railroad in America. Even though it cared little for the comfort of its passengers, which it does, it probably would burn hard coal for the reason that it owns the most extensive anthracite coal mines in Pennsylvania, and it is cheaper for it to burn hard coal, which makes no smoke, than soft. At any rate, there is no smoke from its locomotives. It is built for the most part through the mountains where rock is the material easiest of access, and its road bed for that reason is rock ballasted. There is therefore, no dust. These two things are of unusual interest to the traveler by the line, for the reason that on no other road in the United States is there stronger incentive to keep one's eyes upon the passing scene. It is said of this line truthfully that every mile is picturesque. It traverses the agricultural region of Western New York, the valley region of Central New York, the mountain region of Pennsylvania and New Jersey, and every mile offers a view that is beautiful, interesting and entrancing. In point of comfort its passengers are particularly fortunate, for, in addition to there being no smoke or dust, the cars are roomy and scrupulously clean. Sleeping cars, parlor cars and dining cars offer all the conveniences and comforts of modern travel.

Awful Tragedy in Ohio.

Xenia, Ohio, Aug. 15.—A terrible crime was committed at Jamestown about 6 o'clock this morning, when A. G. Binghamon killed his wife and his son-in-law, James Bradley, and then committed suicide. The tragedy was the result of family troubles. There are no living witnesses, but it is thought Bradley interfered during trouble between Binghamon and his wife. Binghamon shot both of them and then went to the haymow and shot himself above the heart.

Baron Russell's Funeral.

London, Aug. 14.—The funeral services of Baron Russell of Killowen, lord chief justice of England, took place at Brompton oratory this morning in the presence of a large congregation. Father Matthew Russell, a brother of the deceased chief justice, celebrated low mass. At the conclusion of the services a hearse bearing the plain oak coffin, and six coaches, containing the principal mourners, proceeded by road for Epsom, where the interment will take place.

To Wage War on Chinese.

New York, Aug. 15.—District assembly No. 49 of the Knights of Labor proposes to begin a vigorous anti-Chinese crusade. A committee, of which William Martin, has been chosen permanent chairman, has charge of it. The first step will be to request the federal authorities to enforce the Chinese exclusion act rigidly.

In the meantime it is the intention to urge labor organizations to boycott all Chinese enterprises.

DON'T LOOK FOR FLAWS.

Don't look for flaws as you go through life; And even when you find them, It is wise and kind to be somewhat blind And look for the virtue behind them. For the cloudiest night has a hint of the light Somewhere in its shadow hiding; It is better far to hunt for a star Than the spots on the sun abiding.

The current of life runs every way To the bosom of God's great ocean; Don't set your force 'gainst the river's course And think to alter its motion. Don't waste a curse on the universe; Remember it lived before you. Don't butt at the storm with your puny form, But bend and let it fly over you.

The world will never adjust itself To suit your whim to the letter; Some things must go wrong your whole life long. And the sooner you know it the better. It is folly to fight with the infinite. And go under at last in the wrestle; The wisest man shapes into God's plan, And the wisest shapes into the vessel. —Ella Wheeler Wilcox in Progressive Age.

THE SQUARENESS OF JIM GRIGSBY.

BY W. R. ROSE.

Jim Grigsby was making an improvement for mining machinery and needed an office, so he took one in a skyscraper. The day he took possession he stopped at the news and cigar stand in the lobby and bought a paper.

"Good mornin, sir," said the weazen faced boy who stood behind the counter. He was a lame boy, Jim Grigsby noticed. "If you've got any typewritten or shorthand to do, go to Miss Merriam, ninth floor."

"Friend of yours?" inquired Jim Grigsby in his brusque way.

"Friend of everybody's," replied the lame boy.

"Good indorsement," said Jim Grigsby. A few days later he had some specifications to typewrite. Ordinarily he would have gone to a man and had the work done. He wasn't used to women. He wasn't quite sure that he approved of women doing work of a public nature. But that morning the lame boy had called to him, "Don't forget Miss Merriam."

He came down one story—he was on the tenth floor—and sought Miss Merriam's room. He found it without trouble. Her name was on the door with the names of two other women. One was a stenographer and one an expert accountant. Jim hesitated a little; then he turned the knob and entered.

Miss Merriam was a neat little woman with remarkably fine gray eyes. She wasn't particularly young, 30 at least, Jim concluded, and she was strictly businesslike. She looked the work over and told him when it would be done.

Scarcely a day passed thereafter that he didn't find occasion to make use of her nimble fingers.

A very queer, a very unusual, struggle was going on beneath the inside breast pocket of Mr. Jim Grigsby's sack coat.

One afternoon he had detained her a little longer than the usual hour of quitting, and when the work was finished he dashed up stairs with it, locked his door quickly and caught one of the elevators going down. He meant to ride down with her; perhaps walk with her to the turnstile exit doors. Sure enough, she stepped on board at her floor, and Jim Grigsby, with a bow, took off his hat.

Then there was a jerk, a grinding crash, a shriek from the boy, something fell heavily on the roof of the car, the lights went out, they were falling, falling, then with a horrid jerk they stopped. The air was full of dust. They were in almost total darkness.

As the car floor seemed to slip from under them the woman felt a strong arm pass quickly about her waist, and with a natural desire to grasp something helpful she caught and held fast to the man's stout shoulder. When the car stopped, she slowly withdrew her arm.

"Are you all right?" he gently asked.

"Yes," she answered. "What has happened?"

"We seem to have fallen and stuck between floors," he answered. "Sit down on the seat and don't worry. They'll soon get us out."

"Where is the boy?" she asked.

"I'm trying to locate him," he answered. "I'm afraid he's hurt. Here he is." There was a little pause. "He's alive."

"Here," she quickly said, "place him on the seat and let me hold his head on my lap."

A moment later Jim softly laid the unconscious lad beside her.

"He seems to be bleeding from a cut on his head," said Jim. "Do you mind that?"

"Oh, no," she answered quickly. "Poor boy."

"We must have a light," cried Jim. "Why doesn't somebody come?"

"Hello, hello there!" came a muffled voice from above.

"Yes!" shouted Jim.

"Who is there?"

"Miss Merriam, Mr. Grigsby and the boy. The boy is hurt. Send down a light. I think you can get an incandescent through the opening. A flat bottle of brandy too. Hurry."

"Yes, yes. But, say, don't move around. The cable has broken and fallen on the car roof. The car has caught in the safety catches on one side only. A slight jar would send it to the bottom. We have sent for men and are doing all that is possible. Keep up your courage."

"All right!" cried Jim, with a steady voice. He turned to the girl in the darkness. "You heard," he said.

"Yes," she answered quietly.

Jim softly whispered. Here was a woman in ten thousand.

"How's the boy?"

"He's warm and breathing easily." As she spoke a gleam of light struck the white fireproof wall at the car front. It was the incandescent bulb. Jim carefully drew it through the wire meshes. "All right!" he called. He took the light across the car and hung it above the lad's head; then he went down on his knees and pushed aside the matted hair.

"A nasty cut," he said and deftly bandaged it with strips of his handkerchief. Over all he tied the neck scarf Jane quickly handed him. Something clicked against the wall. It was the bottle of brandy. Jim forced a few drops over the boy's head; then he took off his coat and laid it over him.

"You seem to know just what to do," said Jane Merriam.

"We learn a good many useful things on the plains," said Jim.

"Hello, below there!" came the muffled voice. "Mr. Grigsby."

"Yes!" cried Jim. "What is it?"

"Don't get discouraged. We are doing our best to make you safe. It may take some time. Perhaps it would be better to keep as quiet as possible. Somebody will be here on guard. If you want anything, call out."

"I understand," said Jim. "When you are ready to take us out, have a carriage for the lady and an ambulance and stretcher for the boy."

"Yes, yes; everything will be looked after."

"For Miss Merriam," shrieked a boy's voice. Something attached to a string bobbed in front of the cage. Jim drew it in. It was a little bunch of flowers. He handed it to the girl.

"That was Joe's voice," she said. Joe, as Jim remembered, was the lame boy.

Then Jim lowered his six feet of stature to the floor beside the girl and sat at her feet.

"We might as well make ourselves comfortable," he said. "I fancy we are in for quite a siege of it."

The boy moaned and feebly tossed, but the girl's soothing hand quieted him.

A dull clang, clang, from a distant gong reached them in the silence.

"Must be calling out the fire department," said Jim Grigsby. "We are evidently creating quite a sensation."

"I don't like that," said the girl.

"It will all be an old story in a day or two," he laughed.

"How can you laugh?" she asked.

"Why not?" he asked. "It's all I can do. If there was anything else, I shouldn't be lounging here. I wish I could make you more comfortable. I'm afraid I seem to you a little hardened and thoughtless, but it's all the fault of my early experiences. I've gone through something like this before. I was once locked up in a mine for six hungry days. Do you mind having me talk?"

"I'm glad to hear you," she said simply.

Before he could speak again the elevator swayed a little, settled slightly, caught again, there was a hoarse shout from both above and below, and then all was still again. At the first movement she had caught at his hand with her trembling fingers. He took them in his firm clasp and did not let them go.

"You are cold," he quietly said and fell to softly chafing her hands. Then as if there had been no interruption he went on to tell her the story of the mine. He talked simply and well. It was a graphic tale, and made her forget for the moment their own perilous situation. Then he went on to other adventures and finally drifting back told her of his early life, of his flight from cruel relatives, of his struggle for bread in the rugged western country. Then he told her step by step he had climbed upward to independence. He talked of himself freely, of his hopes, of his ambitions, of his long deferred plans for happiness. She felt the pressure tighten on her hands. Then he suddenly stopped short.

"Hold on," he said brusquely. "I'm tiring you. And, see here, you mustn't let yourself get cramped. Try and shift the boy's head a little. Swing your arms and move your feet. Have some brandy?"

"No," she said. "Thank you. I'm quite comfortable. How long have we been here?"

He held his watch to the dim light.

"By George!" he cried, "it's three hours and ten minutes! What a talker I am! But that's what it is to pass one's time in good company," and he laughed like a boy.

"I don't know what I should have done if it hadn't been for you," she almost whispered, and put her hand to her eyes.

"Here," he quickly said, "give me your handkerchief." He took it and holding the light close to her face carefully wiped it. "A little sanguinary in spots," he said, with a quiet laugh. "Don't put your fingers to your face again. There, now your hat is straight. We must look our best when we face the big reception committee that is pretty sure to be awaiting us."

For the life of her she couldn't help smiling at the contrast between his lively air and his sorry appearance.

"Hello, below there!" came the muffled voice from above.

"Hello!" answered Jim.

"All right?"

"No change," said Jim.

"We have rigged a temporary cable and some grappling lines and are going to let you down. Don't be alarmed."

"Go ahead," said Jim.

There was a creaking of blocks and many hoarse orders, and somebody was lowered to the roof of the car. There were sounds, too, from below—murmurs and sharp cries of warning. The car rose a little, and then began its slow descent. As it neared the ground floor Jim gently picked up the boy and Jane spread the coat carefully over the quiet form.

"Tete-a-tete is over," said Jim.

The gate was pushed back and Jim stepped out. There were policemen and firemen and ambulance men, and back of them many people waiting in the lobby, and a muffled cheer arose as they stepped out.

"Clear the way to the ambulance," said Jim sharply to the police sergeant, and the stretcher men and the surgeon fell in behind him as he stalked to the street. He was a sorry looking fellow, hatless, coatless and blood stained, but as he laid the lad on the mattress and stepped aside the great crowd that had been patiently waiting in the street for the rescue gave him a rousing cheer. He hurried back into the lobby, but Jane had been spirited away.

It was just a week later that Lane Joe beckoned to the elevator starter.

"Flour about Miss Merriam?" he confidentially asked.

"No," said the starter. "Moving out, ain't she?"

"Yep," said Joe. "Goin to marry that Mr. Grigsby. Goin to live out west too. He's got mines out there to burn. Says he'll look around an see if there ain't some kind of chance for me too."

"That's good," said the starter, with a laugh. "Guess that match must have been made in the elevator."

"No," said Joe. "That ain't so; I thought it was, but it ain't. You know she ain't me is pretty good friends, an I says, 'Guess Mr. Grigsby must have axed you to marry him in the elevator?' She laughed. 'No,' she says, 'I says, 'An she nodded. 'Then,' I says, 'why didn't he?' She blushed a little. 'Because, Mr. Grigsby says it wouldn't have been fair; it would have been taking an advantage of me,' she says, an blushed again. That Grigsby's a square man, Jack."

"Guess he is," said the starter.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Wisconsin Weather Forecast

Showers, thunder storms tonight; cloudy Thursday.

THE NEWS LIKES "BOB"

The Milwaukee News, independent, pays Mr. La Follette a handsome compliment, saying:

"The fact of his triumph, representing as he does, the highest expression of progressive development in his party toward better administration of public functions, rises in significance above all other incidents of his campaign and of the convention.

"When any party distinctly turns its back on a long career of subservience to forces adverse to the best public interest and departs from a policy of placing men at the head of its state ticket whose price of political ascendancy is submission and fealty to the corrupt method of machine dictation, there is cause for congratulation in the breast of every true, patriotic citizen, regardless of party affiliation.

"The triumph of pure political purpose is not limited in its blessings by party lines. Its blessings are as broad as citizenship. * * * Viewed from this standpoint, Mr. La Follette's nomination is a matter of congratulation to the citizen at large. He need not be a republican to feel gratified at the result.

"His nomination, if it means anything and as foreshadowed by his firm, unequivocal speech of acceptance and the platform which his conviction has dominated, if elected, means the destruction of the brutality and corrupting power of the machine. He is pledged in his party, not as a convert, but as a creator of new methods that promise to take the operation of political machinery to the primary source of power, the people, and to destroy all opportunity of its concentration in the hands of a boss, which makes the theory of government of the people more or less of a mockery.

"Those who know Mr. La Follette believe that if elected he will do his utmost to redeem the pledges he has made and that have been made for him largely at his instance. In his nomination the republican party has taken in state political affairs a pronounced stride forward."

The News supports Bryan and free silver but evidently it will not raise its voice against the republican state ticket. It refused to support D. S. Rose in the Milwaukee municipal campaign, although its leanings have been strongly democratic.

The Illinois Steel company paid off its men yesterday, and the amount was the largest ever paid, for two weeks' work, in the history of the concern—$218,000. This cold fact stands out prominently in denial of the democratic arguments that the country is going to the demagogue bowwows, and it is safe to predict that none of the Illinois Steel company's employes will vote for "a change."

The wheelmen of Wisconsin were pained by the death of Frank P. Van Valkenburgh, of Milwaukee. He was an enthusiastic League of American Wheelmen worker, and had labored faithfully in the good roads cause.

The Chilean government which has charge of all the railways in that country, will buy a shipload of cars in the United States, as American manufacturers can beat all competitors.

Populism received two crushing blows within the last few days—Jerry Simpson took to wearing a shirt waist and Peffer became a republican. It is Debs' move now.

John G. Woolley, the Prohibition candidate for president, recently fell down stairs and strained the muscles of his arm. This looks as if—but let it pass.

The Oshkosh papers will now have to brush up a bit. Baraboo papers announce that a lunar rainbow was recently seen at that town.

Burr W. Jones, of Madison, declines to be a candidate for the democratic gubernatorial nomination. There are no burrs on Mr. Jones.

Ex-Senator Whiskers Peffer of Kansas, has renounced populism, and embraced republicanism. And yet the wind, etc., etc.

The International Typographical Union, now in session at Milwaukee, has voted to put politics on the "dead-stone."

Only a few weeks more in which the Filipinos may hope for Mr. Bryan's election.

"Bob" also has the democrats a bobbing.

DIED TOGETHER RATHER THAN PART

Young Couple Kill Themselves With Morphine Because Parents Would Not Let Them Marry.

Clinton, Mo., Aug. 15.—Farmer Jones, aged 22, and Bonnie Turner, aged 18, living near Coal, a village about twelve miles east of Clinton, were found in a dying condition in a buggy by the roadside. They died two hours later from the effects of morphine which they had taken with suicidal intent. They had been keeping company for over a year and had intended to marry, but, unfortunately, Jones was kicked by a horse this summer, necessitating the expenditure of the money he had saved to marry on. After his recovery he decided he would leave home in search of work. The couple went driving in the afternoon, remaining away all night. The next morning they unhitched the horse from the buggy, tied him to a fence, fastened the lap robe over the side of the buggy top so that they could not be seen from the road, and took morphine. About 9 o'clock a man named Link McGinniss, who was passing, discovered them in a dying condition. Three physicians were summoned but were unable to save them. A note to Jones' mother was found in his memorandum book asking that they be buried in the same grave. He gave as the explanation of the deed that they could not marry and would rather die than be separated. They were buried Tuesday in the same grave.

WOMAN STABS RIVAL

Bloody Tragedy Is Reported From Harlan County Kentucky—One Woman Dead.

Harlan, Ky., Aug. 13.—News has reached here of a bloody tragedy in this county, in which two women figured as principals. According to the report, Mrs. Ruth Stewart stabbed Vina Daniel to death at the latter's home. The cause of the killing is reported to have been jealousy on the part of Mrs. Stewart, she having accused Vina Daniel of alienating her husband's affections. While going to market Mrs. Stewart is reported to have noticed Miss Daniel milking in the latter's yard, and it was there that the crime was committed. The woman was stabbed three times with a barrow knife, death resulting instantly.

The Telephonograph.

The telephonograph is the latest invention along the lines of the telephone. Its object is to make a permanent record of the telephone message, which can be repeated to the receiver any length of time after it is sent. This telephonograph does not have the waxed cylinder. It passes a steel tape from one spool to another over a magnet, something after the manner of the inked tape of the typewriter. When the tape is passed over the magnet again it repeats the message.

Clouds' Height Figured.

To determine the height of clouds an observer at each of two stations a mile or more apart measures the angle and altitude of some point of a cloud, the identity of which is ascertained from conversation by telephone, while synchronism in the observation is secured by the beating of electric pendulums. This is the method used at the celebrated observatory at Upsala, in Sweden.

Jerry Simpson's Wealth.

Jerry Simpson saved most of his salary while he was serving in Congress, invested it in land and cattle and has become wealthy. When he went to Congress he hadn't a dollar in his pocket. He had to borrow the money he paid for his ticket to Washington. Now he is rated at $40,000—one of the richest men in Barber county, Kansas.

ELABORATE PLANS FOR STATE FAIR

IT WILL BE BEST EVER HELD IN STATE OF WISCONSIN.

Entries of Stock Will Be Especially Large—First Regiment Will Attend in a Body—Gentry-Patchen Race—Athletic Meet Friday—Milwaukee Derby Thursday.

At the last meeting of the State Board of Agriculture in Milwaukee plans were completed for the biggest and most elaborate fair, Sept. 10-14 that has ever been held in the state of Wisconsin. Every department of the institution has been enlarged and it was found necessary to accommodate the large list of entries in the cattle, swine, sheep and horse departments. In this respect the fair is going to eclipse all efforts of the past and the entertaining features in point of numbers and variety will outdo those of all previous exhibitions, thus making the program superior in all ways.

The management of the fair announces that there will be something of interest going on every minute while the gates are open, as the following official announcement of Secretary John M. True proves:

The full attendance of the First regiment, Wisconsin National Guards, including troop and battery has been assured.

The military field day will be the leading feature of Wednesday's entertainment.

Troops will go into camp upon the grounds and remain over until Thursday. One cent a mile, as rate of transportation of soldiers in uniform has been granted by the railroads.

Tents and other camping material will be brought from Camp Douglas.

The match race between Joe Patchen 2:01 1/4 and John R. Gentry, 2:00 1/4, is to be the leading attraction for Thursday, and will bring thousands from all parts of the state.

The horses never have done better work than they have been doing the present season, and every race is a contest for the championship.

The athletic meet Friday, under the skillful management of Supt. Ritchey, promises to be one of the most interesting events of the kind ever held in the state, and correspondence coming in shows that unusual interest is already being taken in the matter.

While the foregoing may be called the prominent special feature of the fair, they do not constitute by any means all of the interesting attractions.

Superintendent of Speed Harland informs me that he has already assurances of one of the largest arrays of "flyers" ever brought to the state fair park, and that daily races will be full and lively.

Vaudeville and other like performances, in front of the grand stand, will occupy the attention between heats in the races.

A Milwaukee derby is being arranged for Thursday afternoon.

Add to all this, aside from the large exhibits competing for premiums, the model dairy under direction of Prof. Farrington of the State University; the cooking school and ladies' rest, in a tent secured for the purpose, and presided over by Mrs. Armstrong of Chicago; the reunion of our university short course students, in another large tent; the large herd of buffaloes, secured at great trouble and expense, and other new features to be considered by the agricultural board and Milwaukee committee of interest to occupy the entire time and attention of the visitor during the full week.

The action of the railroads in granting a rate of one fare for the round trip should of itself be sufficient cause for an exodus from all parts of the state to Milwaukee.

Nothing now in sight can prevent our fair being in every way worthy of a grand recognition from the public, and this we confidently expect.

A Lock of Lincoln's Hair.

Mrs. C. D. Harmon of Emporia, Kan., is the possessor of a lock of Abraham Lincoln's hair, which was cut from his head just before his death. The lock was given by Mrs. Lincoln to her sister, and in turn by the sister to Mrs. Harmon, whose husband was an associate of the martyred president when both were young lawyers in Illinois. The lock is long and straight and black with gray hair here and there.

Sand for Human Stomach.

Sand for a human being has been recommended by a doctor. What we all need, according to his theory, is grit—real grit that is furnished by the silica in the sand. To get that we must swallow a little clean sand every day with our meals. The presence of the grit will assist in the grinding process, and our food, instead of distressing us, will nourish us.

"Military Expert's" Deductions.

The London Morning Post's "military expert," whose deductions from south Africa were nine times out of ten directly opposed to those of the war office, and usually correct, and whose articles were telegraphed to the leading journals throughout the world, is a civilian named Spencer Wilkinson. He has a fine head, wears a full beard and looks like a scientist. When the war broke out he was dramatic critic of the Post.

Stagnant Water Released.

Cutting the sudd on the upper Nile has released a mass of long stagnant water which is working its way down the river, killing the fish as it goes. At Assouan, where the great dam is being built, the dead fish have been cast ashore in millions and the odor is unpleasant. The Nile water is all the workmen have to drink, and though, when filtered, it seems to have no ill effect upon them, eels plunged into the filtered water are suffocated in a few moments.

It was the intention to hold the reunion in the court house park and have the dinner in the shade of the trees. On account of the rain the meeting was transferred to the G. A. R. hall.

The morning was spent in greeting old comrades and friends that had come together at this time to renew acquaintances, talk over old times and recall the events of the stirring times when they were banded together in defense of their country.

At noon a bountiful dinner was served in the G. A. R. post dining room and was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. Those in attendance at the reunion are:

DID NOT KNOW
IT WAS LOADED

Young Men Fooling With a Revolver Find It Is Dangerous—Orrin Weaver Shot in the Leg.

Another case of didn't know it was loaded occurred last night and Orrin Weaver, a young son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Weaver, was the victim. Fortunately for the young man, the pistol was a .22 calibre and the consequences might have been more serious. As it was the boy received a small flesh wound in the leg.

Young Weaver and a friend named Casey were fooling with a couple of revolvers, one of which would not work, and Young Weaver volunteered to show how it could be fixed and in some manner caused its discharge. The ball struck the young man in his hip and ran around his leg. He was taken to Dr. Woods' office and when the doctor came to look for the bullet he found it had run along under the flesh for a distance, and, coming out, had gone into the boy's pants pocket where it remained.

It is a wonder more boys are not hurt with revolvers. Any number of them around the city have pistols, and are allowed to have them by their parents, not only endangering their own lives, but also those of the people around them.

MRS. C. L. FIFIELD
WON THE MATCHEND OF THE CONTEST FOR VALENTINE GOLF MEDAL.

Ed Peterson and George Brownell Will Play the Final for the Hart Medal on Tuesday Next—Handicap Match Against Bogey on the Links Yesterday—Rockford Coming Friday.

The finals for the Valentine medal given to the Siniissippi Golf club by A. M. Valentine, were played off yesterday afternoon between Mrs. F. E. Fifield, with a handicap of 12, and Mrs. C. L. Fifield. Mrs. C. L. Fifield won the match by a score of 4 up and 2 to play.

The Valentine medal is a club fixture, and to Mrs. Fifield will belong the honor of wearing the same for the ensuing year. Mrs. Fifield's victory is a popular one, as she has devoted a great deal of time to practice, and has the record for the best round on the ladies' course, her score of 34 not having been equaled by any of the lady members.

Mrs. F. E. Fifield, the other lady contestant won the prize for the runner up, given by Hall, Sayles & Fifield. The prize consisted of two stick pins in golf design bearing a plaid silk caddy bag.

Miss Lizzie Schickler, who has held the medal for the past two years, did not enter this year's competition, her sick ness compelling her to refrain from golf playing until she regains her strength.

In the semi finals for the Hart medal for Class B players, Ed. Peterson with a handicap of 10 won from Harry McNamara with a handicap of 6, 2 up; Sam Echlin, who was to have played George Brownell, being out of the city forfeited to Brownell. Peterson and Brownell play the finals on Tuesday next.

In a handicap match against "Col. Bogey" for two boxes of balls donated by J. G. Rexford and S. D. Tallman, and divided into five prizes, Al Schaller won first prize, Chester Brewer, second, Francis Grant and George H. Sale divided third and fourth and Charles Schaller and George Brownell divided fifth.

Albert Schaller put up the best score ever made on the Siniissippi course, playing two rounds in 84, each round in 42. With his handicap of 6 he broke even with the Colonel whose score is 39.

At six o'clock an elegant supper was served under the supervision of Mrs. J. P. Baker and daughter Miss Jennie. The serving was done by the young ladies and gentlemen of the club and could not have been improved on.

Later in the evening Roy Carter presided at the piano and dancing was indulged in.

On Friday next a team of twelve from the Rockford club will play a like number from the home club. The visiting team will be accompanied by a large delegation of ladies and gentlemen from the Rockford club. A luncheon will be served in the club house at noon under the supervision of Mrs. H. G. Carter. The Rockford delegation will arrive at 9:20 in the morning and return home at 6:05 at night.

BROUGHT HOME WITH A BROKEN BACK

Serious Accident to Claude Ogborn, the 16 Year Old Son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Ogborn.

Claude Ogborn, the sixteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Ogborn of this city, lately employed as a telegraph lineman at Brazil, Ind., was brought here last night with a broken back and taken to Mrs. Henderson's private hospital.

Young Ogborn, while at work at Brazil on the telegraph line caught hold of a live wire and fell from the top of the pole on which he was working to the ground, breaking his back at the sixth vertebra and paralyzing the entire lower part of his body.

His parents were immediately summoned by telegraph and went at once to the injured boy's bedside. They brought him here yesterday that he might have better care. The injury will in all probability cost the young man his life. It being of such a nature that the young man may linger along for some time, it being impossible to tell how long he will last.

REGENERATION of Siberia seems to be at hand. An Imperial ukase has just been published in the Official Messenger at St. Petersburg abolishing the penalty of banishment to Siberia for the greater number of offenses hitherto punishable by that inhuman method. The ukase marks the completion of the transformation of penal settlements into a true colony wherein the surplus population of Russia proper, which is constantly threatening to outgrow its means of subsistence, will have room to expand and thrive.

Mrs. Orcutt was a sister of Silas Hayner and Mrs. H. F. Bliss of this city. She resided in Janesville for many years, and will be remembered by old residents. She was active in church work, and a consistent member of the Baptist church. She was a woman possessed of a generous heart and loving sympathy, and enjoyed the confidence of all who knew her.

He uses Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and says he never found anything that would give him such quick relief. It is for sale by Smith's Pharmacy, next to P. O., Kodak agents.

REGENERATION of Siberia.

The regeneration of Siberia seems to be at hand. An Imperial ukase has just been published in the Official Messenger at St. Petersburg abolishing the penalty of banishment to Siberia for the greater number of offenses hitherto punishable by that inhuman method. The ukase marks the completion of the transformation of penal settlements into a true colony wherein the surplus population of Russia proper, which is constantly threatening to outgrow its means of subsistence, will have room to expand and thrive.

PUSHING WORK ON THE JANESVILLE & SOUTHEASTERN.

Large Gangs of Men Are Busy on the Grading and Bridge Work—Two More Small Engines for Hauling Dump Carts Arrive—Large Hole in the Bank at Snipe Hill.

Work on the part of the new Janesville & Southeastern railroad, that Halverson, Richards & Co., of Minneapolis have the contract for building, is to be rushed to completion.

Forty men arrived yesterday from State Center, Iowa, to work on this part of the road. They have just completed a contract of laying a double track for the C. & N. W. R. R. on the main line from Chicago to Omaha and are experienced men in track building.

The new men will be employed around the steam shovels on the grading and other work connected with building the road and expect to remain here until Christmas time.

Work along the entire line is now being rapidly pushed along and large gangs of men are busy on the grading and bridge work.

Two more small engines for hauling the dump cars have arrived for Winston Bros. from the H. K. Porter locomotive works of Pittsburgh, Pa. This makes three of the small engines that have been brought here by this firm. They will expedite the work of hauling the dump cars on the fills, it now being done by horses.

The steam shovel has made a large hole in the bank at Snipe Hill. By the time the fill is completed on the long trestle from that point to the river the hill will be a thing of the past. It is estimated that it will take one hundred thousand loads of dirt to make the fill at the trestle.

LIGHTNING BOLT STRUCK A TREE

During the storm this morning lightning struck a tree on the W. P. Austin farm in the town of Janesville. The bolt ran down the tree and followed a wire clothes line attached to it and shattered two posts the line was tied to.

Another part of the current struck an eave trough on the house and ran down the side of the house striking a water tank making five holes in it. No serious damage was done, the siding on the house was somewhat torn and the water tank badly shattered.

CRUELTY OF RUSSIANS.

Vivid Description of Murder and Looting at Tien-tsin.

BABIES IMPALED ON BAYONETS.

Terrible Story of Cossack Troops' Barbarities Related by Mrs. Drew, Wife of Sir Robert Hart's Assistant—Says She Saw Children Tossed in the Air From Bayonets.

The most remarkable story that has thus far come out of China is that told by Mrs. E. B. Drew, who, with her three daughters, was a passenger on the transport Logan from Taku, which recently arrived at San Francisco, says the New York Journal. Mrs. Drew is the wife of the Chinese customs commissioner at Tien-tsin, the next in authority to Sir Robert Hart. He remained at Tien-tsin and will go to Peking with the allies.

"During the bombardment," said Mrs. Drew, "we lived most of the time in the cellar. Other foreigners did the same. Our house was partially wrecked by big shells.

"Probably all the women were prepared to act in case the Chinese effected an entrance. But, aside from that unpleasant resolution, it appeared the allied officers were prepared to act. I did not know it at the time, but I understand 10 or 20 marines had been detailed to kill all the foreign women in case the Chinese were victors. What a terrible thought! And yet it was a humane arrangement to forestall Chinese atrocities."

Mrs. Drew says it was understood between husbands, wives and children that in case of defeat the husbands would see that all members of their families were dead before killing themselves.

"We escaped from slaughter by the Boxers only to witness such barbarous conduct by Russian troops that it is hard to believe. But every word of it is true. There was no mercy to expect from the Boxers. From the Russians mercy was to be expected.

"But their eyes were blind and their hearts stony when it came to the cries and pleadings of the Chinese women and children they were torturing and killing. Not a Russian but was concerned in the diabolical acts. They pillaged, looted, tortured and murdered right and left.

"A timid, frightened Chinese mother would be hidden in a corner of her little home. She would have a babe in her arms. A big Russian marine or trooper would burst open the door. He would not stop to see if the door could be opened or the window raised. With his heavy boot or the butt of his rifle the door would be broken down or the window smashed in. Having robbed the house of jewelry and valuables, he would then murder the frightened woman hiding in the corner. A thrust of the bayonet and a scream would end her existence.

"With the babe on the point of his bayonet, the Russian soldier would emerge from the house to the street. The sight would be hailed with cheers and laughter by his fellow soldiers. Probably before the little thing was dead it would be tossed from the point of the bayonet into the air. If it was not caught on the point of the same bayonet again, some other soldier would catch it on his, and perhaps toss it back again, or perhaps it would fall heavily to the ground, after first being tossed into the air. Then some fellow would take the poor little body on his bayonet and throw it off to one side as far as he could.

"There was not only one case of the kind; there were many.

"Chinese women were mistreated and murdered in house after house.

"Out from Tien-tsin, along the Pei-Ho and Yellow rivers, are numerous little villages. In these places they also tossed infants and older children in the air from bayonets. And every time this child tossing tragedy was indulged in, the dead body of a mother, father or both, would be hard by."

Kaiser Gave Guns to Americans.

Six Mauser rifles, the gift of Kaiser Wilhelm to the Chilton Krueger Verein, have been received at Chilton, Wis., says the Chicago Inter Ocean. The guns are of the pattern of 1871 and have seen army service, but that makes them all the dearer for the Krueger Verein is an association of veterans of the German army. The Mausers will be officially presented in behalf of his majesty to the Chilton association by the German consul general, Mr. Weber, at Chicago Sept. 2. Some months ago the branch of the veterans' association at Chilton conceived the plan of asking the emperor of Germany for six army guns with which to fire salutes at the burial of the members of the association. A carefully worded petition was got up and sent to the German consul at Chicago, who forwarded it to the emperor. Sept. 2, by the way, is the anniversary of the German victory at Sedan. This occurred just 30 years ago.

Gutta Percha and Golf Balls.

It is said that the amount of gutta percha consumed in golf balls is so great that the insulation needed for the Pacific cable can be obtained only with much difficulty and delay. When a golf enthusiast stops to reckon how much he has spent on balls at $4 a dozen, he is half inclined, says the Providence Journal, to conclude that it all might as well have gone to the bottom of the ocean.

CANTON FORTS WELL FORTIFIED.

Armed with Modern Guns in Preparation for an Attack.

London, Aug. 15.—Secret inquiries at Canton show all the forts have been newly armed with 12-centimeter disappearing guns and that the garrisons number 18,000 men, armed with Mausers and Winchester. The Chinese have also been trying to engage a foreign electrician to lay mines in the Bogue or entrance to the Canton harbor.

Gen. Chaffee's message announcing his arrival Aug. 9 at Ho-Si-Wu stands as the latest official intelligence of the march of the allied forces on Peking. The English papers say it is rather annoying that their naval and military officers cannot communicate with the officials here, while Admiral Remy and General Chaffee can do so by the Shanghai-Canton wire.

Chinese reports are being distributed far and wide in the southern provinces of alleged Chinese successes in the north.

TO RECAPTURE TIEN-TSIN.

Emperor Sanctions Scheme to Regain Forts.

Chefoo, Aug. 6.—The Chinese plan for the recapture of Tientsin and the Taku forts has been sanctioned by the emperor.

A dispatch to the Herald from Tientsin, dated Aug. 3, says:

"The Chinese have received reinforcements from the south. The duplicity of the southern viceroys accounts for this.

"The reform of China means ruin to half a million officials."

Chefoo, Aug. 15.—An English merchant here has just received a dispatch from his correspondent in Tientsin saying that the allied army had arrived at Peking.
